

JORE

A WORLD OF COLORS

At Jore Copenhagen our goal is to create a space for the individual – where people dare to stand out from the crowd and wants to make their home feel personal and unique. Challenging the status quo by not submitting to the common conception of seasonal collections, we join the battle to avoid over production, and instead make new products and collections when needed or the perfect ideas comes to mind.

Behind Jore Copenhagen is Josephine Reich, who launched the brand in December 2019. The name 'Jore' is an abbreviation of the designer's first and last name since there is a close connection between Josephine herself and her designs in Jore.

Josephine Reich's biggest source of inspiration is the combination of fashion and the vintage style, which helps making Jore Copenhagen a brand that is playful in its visual identity when it comes to form, colors and materials.

THE NATURE OF LIGHTINGS

Our lamp collection consists of seven lamp series in various colors and design so they fit into many different homes. The lampshades are produced in natural materials including metal, bast fiber and French wicker, giving a natural and refined look.

The opportunities with the lamps are many, as they're both practical and decorative. The five different wall lamps Dott and Dott Stripes can be installed in different patterns on the wall, in combination with a picture wall or as a night lamp by the bed. With its simple shape, Kyoto Pendant can be used in all rooms of the house - above the kitchen island, the dining table or in the bedroom. With Triple Cane, a more sculptural look is possible and gives character to the room, and the nice little table lamp Mushroom fits perfectly on the nightstand or on a small table besides the couch.

The tabletop is laminate, and the large columnar table leg are made of iron, which is lacquered with a matte color, so it matches the expression of the tabletop. MAKE A DIFFERENCE – With hand embroideries

At Jore Copenhagen, we're proud of our beautifully hand embroidered products consisting of placemats, pillows and wall hangings. The products are produced in collaboration with an Indian organization that fight for women's rights in India and helps them enter the workforce and support their families, across all religious backgrounds.

It was on an inspirational trip to Delhi that Jore's head designer, Josephine Reich, was introduced to the organization and fell in love with their unique handicraft and vision. Both the pillows and wall hangings are 100% cotton and the hand embroidered motives are inspired by the traditional Indian painting style called kalamkari. In ancient India, the kalamkari painting and embroideries were used to tell stories about the Hindu mythology.

We're incredibly happy to collaborate with these women and to play a part in making a difference for both their own and their children's lives.
